

Content

Please review the content below and track any suggested changes

Version 1.0: Barossa WAP consultation extended

FACEBOOK
Publish date	24 September 2025
Image:
Copy	📌 Consultation extended – Barossa Water Allocation Plan Calling all water users in the Greenock, Barossa Valley and Flaxman/Eden Valley areas: We've extended the consultation period for the draft amended Barossa Water Allocation Plan until 31 October 2025. This allows more time for review and feedback to ensure all voices are heard. Learn more and have your say: bit.ly/BarossaWAP 💧 Greenock and Salt Water Creek water users:

	Your input is important. Existing users with authorisations in the Greenock and Salt Water Creek areas will be included in the scope of the amended plan once licences are issued. Licences are created by the Department for Environment and Water through a separate process from the Water Allocation Plan. 💧 Explore the new interactive map: A new online tool is now available. Zoom out to view the whole Barossa Prescribed Water Resources Area, or zoom right in to your local area, including your property. This lets you see which zone your property sits in, which monitoring sites are closest to you, and what parts of the Water Allocation Plan are most relevant. View now: https://bit.ly/BarossaWAPmap Thank you to everyone who has already contributed feedback – your input is shaping the future of water management in the Barossa.
Tags	@The Barossa Council, @Barossa Improved Grazing Group, @Barossa Australia Members, @Regional Development Australia Barossa Gawler Light Adelaide Plains. @Light Regional Council
Approvals	Jennifer Munro Rebecca Howard	