

Barossa Water Allocation Plan Amendment webinar

24 January 2023 1–3pm

Topics include

- Barossa Water Projects update
- Climate change impact on water resources
- Ground water; processes and status
- Ecological monitoring
- Unbundling of water licences
- Objectives and Management Options

The Northern and Yorke Landscape Board invites you to be part of a group discussion on the proposed Barossa Water Allocation Plan Amendment. This 2-hour webinar will include presentations about the latest science, and will seek your input into the water allocation plan amendments. The event seeks to collectively explore how together, we can sustain the water resource into the future. You will be asked to consider a variety of policy options, actions or ideas to address declining water resources, and consider how adaptive water management options could be considered.

The information captured at the workshop will help shape the proposed Barossa Water Allocation Plan amendments, which will be formally consulted on in 2023.

Time: 1–3 pm
